TELEGRAPHIC BRIEVITIES.

All coal miners in the region of Scranton, Pa., have resumed work on full time.

A Vienna dispatch says: On the return of the king of Greece to Athens the Greek navy will be placed on a war footing.

A Copenhagen dispatch says: The Prussian minister at Copenhagen has been summoned to Berlin to confer personally with Prince Bismarck.

Twenty-eight members of the Prussian Reichstag and Sonntag have published a declaration announcing their secession from the national liberal party. They declare it to be their intention to uphold the political liberties already achieved, and the freedom of commerce and the reform of imperial taxation by the abolition of oppressive indirect taxes. They also insist upon religious freedom being guaranteed by legislation.

ADDITIONAL CITY NEWS.

THE MURDERED MAN.

Funeral of John Meyer this afternoon.

At half past two o'clock this afternoon the funeral of John Meyer, the unfortunate young man who was so brutally murdered by the Schnurr brothers—John and Perry—at the Bloomingdale Brewery on Sunday afternoon, took place from his late residence on Barthold street, Bloomington, the remains being interred in the Catholic Cemetery. Religious services appropriate to the occasion were conducted at the house prior to the funeral cortege taking its departure for the burial ground. Yesterday afternoon the body of the murdered man reposed in a neat coffin and lay in the front room of the family residence. During the afternoon and throughout the evening until a late hour, a large number of sorrowing friends and acquaintances of the family dropped in to view the remains and to offer words of consolation to the bereaved widow and fatherless children. May He who tempers the wind to the storm lamb give them strength to bear the great affliction which has befallen them.

The Farmers' Festival.

The readers of the SENTINEL should not forget that the Farmers' Festival, better known as the Seventh Annual Great Northern Indiana Fair, will commence at this city on Monday of next week, the 6th of September, and will be continued on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. Cash premiums to the amount of $8,000 will be awarded, and there will be eleven trials of speed on the race course. The indications are that in the matter of exhibits the present exhibition will far surpass any that have preceded it. Every citizen of the county should make a personal effort toward contributing something for the success of the fair. No farmer should neglect to place on exhibition some of the products of his farm, while the artisan and mechanic generally should make a display of specimens of their handiwork in their different branches of trade. The sack races, greased pig, wheelbarrow races, mule races and greased poles will be novel features, and cannot fail to be productive of great merriment. None of our country friends should fail to attend the fair and take their families along with them.

Off to DeKalb County.

George Hazzard, formerly of Auburn, the notorious bank swindler, will be tried in the DeKalb Circuit Court in September on the charge of forgery and false pretense. S. M. Hench, Esq., the well known prosecutor of this county, has been engaged to assist Prosecutor Adams, of that circuit, in the trial of the case. Mr. Hench left for DeKalb county to-day to look after the preliminary arrangements for the trial in which his services have been enlisted.

The prosecuting witness and owner of the horse was Philip Rehm, and all the parties to the transaction reside in the neighborhood of Lafayette and Leith streets. The defendant was discharged.

A Party of Roughts Thump a Grocerymen.

Between four and five o'clock yesterday afternoon a party of roughs entered the grocery and saloon kept by a gentleman named Grotenhouse, at the corner of Holman and Monroe streets, and after crowding the proprietor up into a corner, began to amuse themselves by pounding him with their fists and a bottle. Their object evidently was plunder after they should have rendered Mr. Grotenhouse insensible, but the latter's wife appearing on the scene and giving the alarm, caused the scoundrels to beat a retreat in the direction of the railroad, where they boarded a passing freight train and succeeded in making their escape.

Second, By extravasation of blood on different parts within the cranial cavity and in the brain substance itself.

In consequence of blows which a short time before death were inflicted upon his skull.

We love everything that's old. Old friends, old times, old manners, old books, old wine. And the famous author might have added—old medicines, because of their known worth. In a late communication, Mr. Eustace Sauer, Modina, Mo., thus speaks of an Old German Household Remedy: I prize Hamburg Drops very highly. I had suffered for seven years with a severe disease of the liver. I vainly expended a great deal of money upon physicians and for medicines. I concluded to use Hamburg Drops. The trial was crowned with the highest success, as I am to day healthier than I have been for years.

THE Supreme Lodge of the Knights of Pythias will hold its next biennial session at Detroit in 1882.

It is a very common remark from Republicans that GARFIELD would never have been colonized had his record been known.

THE fact should not be lost sight of that Hon. FRANK LANDERS was the author of the first move in Congress for the remonetization of silver.

EX-GOV. HENDRICKS will deliver the oration on the occasion of the laying of the corner stone of the new

Indiana State House on September 27.

It is to be hoped that Hon. ALBERT

G. PORTER will be able to meet Hon.

FRANK LANDERS on the stump in this city on Friday next, according to appointment.

WE have received an article to-day from W. H. JONES, Esq., replying to the article in Sunday's Gazette by Judge FAYOR. It came to hand too late for to-day's issue, but we will cheerfully give it room in to-morrow's issue.

No Democrat in Allen county should forget that JAMES GARFIELD, the Republican candidate for President, is one of the "Perjured Eight" who stole the Presidency less than four years ago. There are facts in history which should never for a moment be forgotten, and this is one of them.

THE contemptible effort made by

GARFIELD while a member of Congress to force a bill through that body under the gag of the previous question, which was in effect to dismiss

MAJOR-GENERAL HANCOCK from the military service of the United States, should not be forgotten now by the veterans of the last war. Remember, soldiers, that because HAN-COCK refused to sink the soldier in the politician; because he declared that the civil was superior to the military power, and that the personal rights of the citizens were sacred and should be protected, GARFIELD, at the instance of a radical caucus, reported a bill and but for the determined opposition and vigorous tactics of Mr. RANDALL and other Democratic Congressmen, would have passed it, by which HANCOCK would have been degraded from the rank of Major-general and dismissed from the army, before the wounds he received at Gettysburg had ceased to fester.

A STARTLING DISCOVERY.

Jas. A. Garfield Forever Ineligible For Any Position of Honor or Trust and Liable to Fine and Imprisonment.

A law was enacted in 1864 for the purpose of protecting the treasury against spoliation, and now appears among the revised statutes of the United States as follows:

"Section 1782. No Senator, representative or delegate, after his election and during his continuance in office, and no head of a department or other officer or clerk in the employ of the government, shall receive or agree to receive any compensation whatever, directly or indirectly, for any services rendered or to be rendered to any person, either by himself or another, in relation to any proceeding, contract, claim controversy, charge, accusation, arrest or other matter or thing in which the United States is a party, or directly or indirectly interested before any department, court martial, bureau, officer, or any civil, military, or naval commission whatever. Every person offending against this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be imprisoned not more than two years and fined not more than $10,000, and shall, moreover, by conviction therefor be rendered forever thereafter incapable of holding any office of honor, trust, or profit under the Government of the United States."

General GARFIELD's acceptance of a fee of five thousand dollars, which, according to his own statement, he took from the DE GOLYER party of speculators with the understanding that he was to prepare a brief on the merits of different kinds of pavement, and to advocate the particular description of pattern represented by his clients, manifestly renders him liable to a conviction under the section cited above. The taking of that fee would have been a punishable crime if Garfield had not been Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations.
He had no right, while acting as a representative of the people and exercising the power of voting away their money, to "receive any compensation whatever, directly or indirectly, for any services rendered or to be rendered to any person, either by himself or another, in relation to any proceeding, contract, etc., in which the United States is a party, or directly or indirectly interested." But it was a specially grievous crime for GARFIELD to take that fee, because it was particularly important that his integrity should be above suspicion while he was acting as Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations, and he added to the enormity of his flagrant offence by displaying extraordinary zeal and earnestness in urging the passage of the appropriation bill by which the Washington pavements were paid for with the money of the American people.

When it is considered that GAR-FIELD's crimes are of such a character that the Republican lawmakers have declared, in the existing and just statute cited above, that it should forever render men who perpetrate it incapable of holding any national office, and that, in the face of this disqualification, GARFIELD is kept in the field as a candidate for the highest office in the gift of the people, the exhibition of hypocrisy becomes too revolting to be tolerated in an enlightened republic.

To-day the watering-place season will nominally end. There will, of course, be many who will stay on into September, and some who will remain even later to enjoy that grandest and most beautiful of all seasons of the year, the American autumn. The reopening of the schools, however, will naturally bring very many families back to town, for when the wheels of education begin to revolve, the social machine is, as it were, put in motion. Now that the season is so near an end, the hotel proprietors are beginning to figure up the profits. As a rule they have been satisfactory. The heated term in June drove people into the country earlier than is customary, and the season has been longer than usual.
The popular resorts have been well patronized.

The Empress Eugenie will leave England in the autumn to take her permanent residence at her chateau in Switzerland, which was the home of the third Emperor's mother after the Bourbon restoration. It is understood that the Empress will remove the remains of her husband and son to the oratory attached to the chateau. All the furniture of Camden House not removed to Switzerland will be distributed for remembrance among friends, nothing being allowed to pass under the hammer of the auctioneer.
The Empress can afford this respect for the imperial tradition, as she possesses an income of over $200,000 a year, and does not spend one-sixth of it.

We would rather be the man who wrote that letter to Sherman than the man who wrote the brief on the De Golyer pavement, given with the $5,000 thrown in.

mitted the act with a suicidal intent.

The Republicans are not a happy family. At their meeting at Cambridge City, Saturday evening, they commenced quarrelling among themselves, which ended in the stabbing of Sam Gipe, by Lin Murry. Gipe will probably die.

absence.

On Thursday afternoon Hugh Donnelly, of Indianapolis, at the Union

$6,000 in money and drafts, belonging reward the finder.

Mrs. Rosa Hudson, an occupant of a low den of ill-fame in Indianapolis, died suddenly, after taking a dose of medicine. The woman with whom she had been living is suspected of having put something in the bottle.
The case will be investigated. Deceased was only twenty-two years of age.

In the Washington Circuit Court the case of Mattie Lee against Andrew Knight, for slander, has been concluded. Knight is a young man of foul tongue, and called Miss Lee, who is a respectable young lady of nineteen, a prostitute. For this she sued him. The jury gave her a verdict for $1,000 as damages for the defamation.

Mrs. Isenberg, of Huntington, took a preparation containing three grains of atropine, at an early hour Thursday morning, by mistake. After the mistake was discovered physicians were summoned, who administered powerful emetics, and it is now thought that she will recover. The attending physicians consider it a remarkable recovery.

While Mr. John Currihan, of Evansville, a painter, was standing on an extension ladder, engaged in painting a house in the west end of Sillivan, the extension suddenly gave way, but Mr. Currihan, before he could fall to the ground, caught to a support and saved himself. By the severe strain his back was severely hurt, however, and he returned to Evansville for medical treatment.

John F. Stephenson picked up a target rifle in Fred. Lohman's shooting gallery and bowling alley at Richmond, and while the proprietor was setting up the pins he took aim and fired. The ball lodged under Lohman's scalp and plowed a groove across his head, but did not penetrate the skull. Stephenson claims that he shot at a target, but bystanders swear that they saw him take deliberate aim at Lohman, and their story is strengthened by the discovery that Stephenson had made threats against Lohman.

Saturday afternoon, about two o'clock, Marshal Thomas Pierce, of Peru, arrested for disorderly conduct David Parmelee and James Pierce and lodged them both in jail. Shortly afterward smoke could be seen escaping from the hallway and windows of the court house. Deputy sheriff Irwin soon came, and in response to the yelling prisoners, unlocked their cell.

Dr. Harter's

STANDS TO-DAY WITHOUT A RIVAL IN THE WORLD.
For the cure of all kinds of Ague and Chills it has no equal; having stood the test of universal use for thirty years in the most malarial districts. It never fails to cure, not merely removing for a time the symptoms, but eradicating the cause of the disease, thereby making a permanent cure. Price only 75 cts.

Manufactured by The Dr. Harter Medicine Co., No. 213 N. Main Street, St. Louis.

Rev. F. HACKETT, Supt. German Protestant Orphan's Home, St. Charles Rock Road, St. Louis Co., writing April 30th, 1877, says: "Dr. Harter's Fever and Ague Specific is a positive cure for Chills and Fever; has never failed with us."

Mr. J. C. WELBORN of Keyport, Ill., says: "I cured a little girl of Ague of three years' standing, with Dr. Harter's Fever and Ague Specific, after the best physicians failed to benefit her."

Dr. YOUNGHOOD of Little Rock, Mo., says: "I have used Dr. Harter's Fever and Ague Specific in my practice, and can heartily recommend it to the public."

There he found that Parmelee and Pierce had set fire to the bedding in the cell and were nearly suffocated.
No further damage.

LUCKY TENNESSEE.

A Large Number of Immigrants to be Settled in Tennessee.

Chicago Tribune New York Special, August 27.

Thomas Hughes, author of "Tom Brown's School Days," arrived in this city to-night on the steamship Germanic. Among his companions are the Earl of Airlie, Lord Ogilvie and Lady Maud Ogilvie. Mr. Hughes, after spending a few days at the watering-places, will proceed to inaugurate the enterprise which brought him here, a scheme of colonization in Tennessee. An English company, which he represents, owns some four hundred thousand acres of land on the Cumberland plateau, a section passed through by the Cincinnati Southern railroad. Since March last the company, whose capital is nearly half a million, has built a hotel, laid out a town, built seven miles of railroad, planted a nursery and experimental garden, put up a saw mill, and made other steps for providing a home for colonists. Mr.
Hughes' purpose is a visit to the place, learn the resources of the section and assist in the introduction of a colony to its new home. He said to your correspondent that the army and learned professions in England were overcrowded, and he hoped by this plan to open a new field of enterprise to a class of young Englishmen who could never hope for equal opportunities of advancement in their own land. He thought there was a flattering prospect of ultimate success for the scheme. He has a son and a nephew in Texas already, but considered that a bad State to go to, as young men were likely to be led into wild and reckless habits there.
The plan of the Tennessee Company, he says, prevents temptations to drink and engage in other vices prevalent in Texas. The effort would be in all respects to maintain a high Christian character for the community and make it a fair specimen of the town of the future. He intimated that the ceremony would be governed with a pretty tight hand.

THE CITY.

This is the last day of August. The days are growing visibly shorter.

Miss Nellie Fleming has returned from Indianapolis.

Frank Clark has returned to Fort Wayne from Indianapolis.

Sheriff Munson is off on a brief business jaunt to Indianapolis.

New subscribers to the DAILY SENTINEL are coming in almost every hour.

A vote for the entire Democratic State ticket is a vote for Hancock and English.

Frank Cosgrove is making new friends everyday and will have a rousing majority in October. Mark this down.

Miss Lottie Klingensmith, of Calensburg, Pennsylvania, is visiting her sister, Mrs. A. G. Esty, of 432 Broadway.

Before another week shall have been ushered in the boys and girls of the city will be rummaging around their respective homes in quest of their school books. The next scholastic term will begin on Monday.

The Young Men's Republican club was permitted to march through the streets of the city last evening again without being pelted with stones and brickbats, as was the case when the Young Men's Democratic club appeared on the streets.

It seems as though Sheldon has taken the lead in the matter of the manufacture and sale of buggies. We are credibly informed that on Friday, the 27th, in a crowd of about one thousand ladies and gentlemen, A. J. Taylor, the premium carriage builder, sold thirteen buggies in three or three and a half hours, at an average of $85.00 each. The music by the Zanesville cornet band was highly appreciated. The vocal and instrumental music was good, and with the tight-rope performance and ice cream a good time was had. He intends to sell about forty more.

Mason Long, of this city, is in attendance upon the great temperance encampment at Lawrence, Kansas, as we learn from a recent issue of the Evening Standard of that city. In its report of the proceedings of the encampment that paper says: "Governor St. John spoke a few minutes and then introduced Mason Long, of Indiana, who addressed the meeting in an able speech. Mr. Long is a reformed drunkard and gambler, evidently an Irishman, and a rapid, pleasant talker, and greatly resembles Luther Benson in his style of oratory."

The Young Men's Democratic club, an organization separate and distinct from the Democratic First Voters' club, held a meeting last evening at its headquarters, corner of Main and Calhoun streets, which was largely attended, and was ably addressed on the issues of the hour by Judge Lowry. The Judge delivered one of his characteristic and telling speeches, and was frequently enthusiastically applauded. He was followed by Prosecuting attorney Hench, who spoke briefly of the sterling virtues which have ever adorned the life and character of the Democratic candidate for the presidency—General Winfield Scott Hancock.

The Democratic Candidate for the Sheriffalty.

Frank K. Cosgrove, Jr., the Democratic candidate for Sheriff of Allen county, is a young man who is as true as steel, and as honest as the day is long. He is making a thorough canvass and is creating a decidedly favorable impression; indeed, there are but few people in the county who do not know the manner of man Frank is, and they will see that he is boosted into the position he seeks. He is one of the rank and file of the party, and his interests cannot be seriously affected by a reckless use of money in the attempt to buy men to vote against him. He will receive the usual majority of the party, and when clothed with the garb of his office will administer its affairs in a just and equitable manner. His past record is a sure guarantee that he will do so.

THE MAYOR'S COURT.

Three Brave Men Occupy the Bench.

Mayor Zollinger's hearing was but sparsely attended this morning. There were but three criminals to be seen ranged in the dock yet those three composed a bad trio. The first two called upon to answer for outraging the law were the notorious Henry Schreck and William Hilker alias "Whisky Bill." Mrs. Lydia Klinger and Mrs. Thatcher, sisters, with uplifted hand swore that while returning to their country homes they sat down under an apple tree in the orchard park at the eastern limits of the city to take a rest, Mrs. Klinger being in delicate health by reason of a stroke of paralysis received some years ago. While resting they were approached by Schreck and Hilker who applied vile epithets to them and wanted the ladies to remain seated and talk to them. This the women refused to do when Schreck began to exhibit that chivalrous spirit for which he has long been noted. He first struck Mrs. Thatcher a severe blow on the breast, knocking her up against a fence, and followed up the assault by striking Mrs. Klinger under the left eye. The affair occurred about five o'clock yesterday afternoon and was witnessed by George Behmer, who notified deputy marshals Falck and Gutermuth and those officers at once repairing to the scene of the outrage effected the arrest of the two cowardly assailants. Schreck was fined $22 and Hilker $5. The former will spend thirty days in jail and the latter eighteen days.

HE WANTED A ROPE TO HANG HIMSELF.

The other offender was one James McMahan who belongs to the noble army of wife beaters. James got howling drunk last evening and when he was escorted into the temple dedicated to the Blind Goddess this morning the appearance of his clothing warranted the supposition that he had been sweetly dreaming the happy hours away in a bed of fresh mortar. He was extremely anxious to have "the thing got over" as he expressed himself while the preliminary arrangements for the hearing were being made. He was on the verge of the jim-jams and at one time declared his intention to jump out of the window. Apprehensive lest he might do so officer Quinlin, who had arrested him took a seat by his side. When his name was called James strode boldly up in front of His Honor and tragically exclaimed: "I want a change of venue; I can't get any justice in this court." Mrs. McMahan, rather a prepossessing woman, testified that James threw her out of the house a couple of times and that he had accelerated her speed by hitting her a kick while en route. The husband looked at the wife sternly for a moment and then exclaimed: "Well, that settles it! some one find me a good, stout rope and I'm a — if I don't hang myself." He was retired to private life on rations of bread and water for a period of thirty days.

A New President of the Democratic First Voters' Club.

Mr. Joseph Beegan, President of the Democratic First Voters' club, has resigned his position and Mr. Joseph E. Evans has been elected to fill the vacancy. The resignation of Mr. Beegan was prompted by reason of his removal from the city, it being his intention to make Wabash his future home for the practice of his profession. To the untiring energy of Mr. Beegan was due in a great measure the organization of that superb body of young men known as the Democratic First Voters' club. He made a most excellent presiding officer and the club was loth to sever relations that had been inaugurated under such pleasant auspices. He is a young lawyer whose talents and unspotted integrity will doubtless carry him to eminence in his profession, and our best wishes go with him to his new home. The selection of Mr. Evans as his successor was one eminently fit to be made. The club met last evening at the central committee rooms, on Main street, and marched in a body to their new hall over Hill's music store, on Calhoun street, where they were drilled for the first time by their new drill master, Mr. Edward Edgerton, whose thorough knowledge of military tactics is second to none in this section of the country. Under the instruction of Mr. Edgerton the club will show a decided improvement on the occasion of its next appearance on the streets of the city, and woe betide any gang of young men who may assail it with stones and brickbats once again.

WHAT A BOY FOUND.

The Skeleton of an Infant Discovered in a Box.

Yesterday afternoon as a boy named Rayhouser was passing through a strip of woods a short distance west of the city his attention was directed to a box that had been tightly sealed and some time in the past had been buried in the ground, a portion of the box only being distinguishable. His curiosity prompted him to make an examination of the contents of the box when to his great surprise he discovered that it contained a perfect skeleton of an infant child that had been entirely denuded of flesh. The box was not removed from the place where it had been found, although the lad notified a number of the residents of the city of the discovery he had made. At present writing we are unable to state whether the attention of the Coroner has been called to the matter or not. There was nothing whatever to be seen in the box save the miniature skeleton, and at this late day any attempt to unravel the mystery of its being buried in the secluded spot in which it was found would doubtless prove futile.

On Thursday evening, September 2d, you, with all the well wishers of Democracy and the country, will meet at the Engine House in the 7th ward, to hear the political issues of the day discussed by the renowned German orator, Governor Brockmeyer, of Missouri. Meeting at 7:30 sharp. W. J. KERR, Pres.

Street Car Drivers Robbed.

A number of the drivers on the cars of the City Passenger Railway Company make the rooms over Detzer's drug store, on Calhoun street near the railroad, their place of lodging, and at an early hour on Sunday morning some unknown party effected an entrance thereto and stole the sum of ten dollars in money and jewelry to the value of seven dollars. There is no clue to the perpetrators of the robbery.

Orange Blossoms.

At Hicksville, on Sunday last, Mr. J. J. Firestone, foreman of the Republican office, was united in marriage with Miss Lizzie A. Eveland, daughter of Mr. D. M. Eveland, editor of the Hicksville (Ohio) Republican. The ceremony was solemnized by Rev. Jonas Lower on the nineteenth birthday of the bride. Miss Eveland was the former editress of the Churubusco Herald. We sincerely trust that the happy couple may long live to reveal amid the sweets of wedded life.

That Same Old Speech.

The speech for which Ben Harrison applied and received letters patent during his fight against "Blue Jeans" Williams in 1876, and which resulted so disastrously to Mr. Harrison, was rehearsed at the Rink last night again with but very slight modification in order to meet the exigencies of the hour. Mr. Harrison, like every Republican orator who has thus far spoken or who may speak during the campaign, went "down to the front" and fought the war all over again. The bloody shirt was vigorously flaunted in the faces of all present, and the Democrats as a body were charged with the commission of all the crimes in the catalogue. They were denounced as disloyal, as rebels and secessionists, and if they ever got into power again would destroy the country and themselves with it. The Democratic party has come to look upon abuse of this kind as a matter of fact, knowing full well as they do that it is the only stock in trade that is left the speakers of the Radical organization. If the latter party cannot again ride into power by appealing to the prejudices of the people, by fanning the embers of sectional hatred and envy and jealousy into a lurid flame once more, they know that it would be the sheerest nonsense and folly to attempt it any other way. And looking at the great question in this light one should not blame them for clutching at a solitary straw as they are being drawn under the political billows with such fearful rapidity.

its attendant malaria and as a natural consequence periodic fevers are quite prevalent and a few cases of bilious fever are reported.

On Tuesday evening last as a young child of Mr. Peter Strine's was playing in the yard near the door it was attacked by a rooster belonging to Mr. Strine and before assistance could be rendered, was quite severely cut about the head and face by the sharp spurs of the enraged fowl. Mr. Strine rushed to the assistance of the child when the bird turned its attention to him whereupon he seized a board and quickly dispatched the bird with a few well directed blows.

On Sunday evening a straw stack beside the barn of Mr. Robert B. Shirley took fire and for a while it seemed as though the barn would fall a victim to the flames but with the aid of numerous friends and large quantities of water the fire was finally subdued and the barn saved. Various suspicions are rife as to the origin of the fire but the most general opinion appears to be that it was the work of personal enemies, whom it is impossible just now to say but the finger of suspicion will doubtless ere long point if not with certainty with a degree of probability to the guilty parties. One cannot help but think that Judge Lynch would be the proper judicial authority to try the perpetrator when he is found. MAUMEE.

A TALE OF LOVE.

How a Father Broke Up a Little Ma Ince.

They sat on the front steps, and as the pale moon traversed the cloudless sky, and the twinkling stars peeped shyly down upon them, they whispered words of love to each other. Suddenly he was startled to hear her utter a cry and fall to the ground. He lifted her gently up, and with his brawny hands smoothed down her pale cheeks and ran his fingers through her golden hair until finally the flush came back to her cheeks and her great, lustrous orbs threw their pitying glances upon him. Then in accents that thrilled his inmost soul she uttered: George, will you be ever true to me? And he swore it. Then he asked if there was anything she wished? and she answered: Yes, George, I want you to go to Chaska's and examine the immense line of notions and fancy goods, and when the large stock of cloaks all in new designs arrives next week I want you to buy me one. I'll do it, he said; and at this juncture a tall, manly figure appeared on the steps, and with more force than moral suasion George was sent into the street. It was her father; but George will go to Chaska's all the same, as will every one who wants unheard of bargains.
